

Communities of practice in educational institutions learning capability in the 21st century

Etienne Wenger
Learning for a small planet
 P.O. Box 810
 North San Juan, CA 95960, U.S.A.
 Phone (530) 292-9222
 E-mail etienne@ewenger.com
 Website: www.ewenger.com

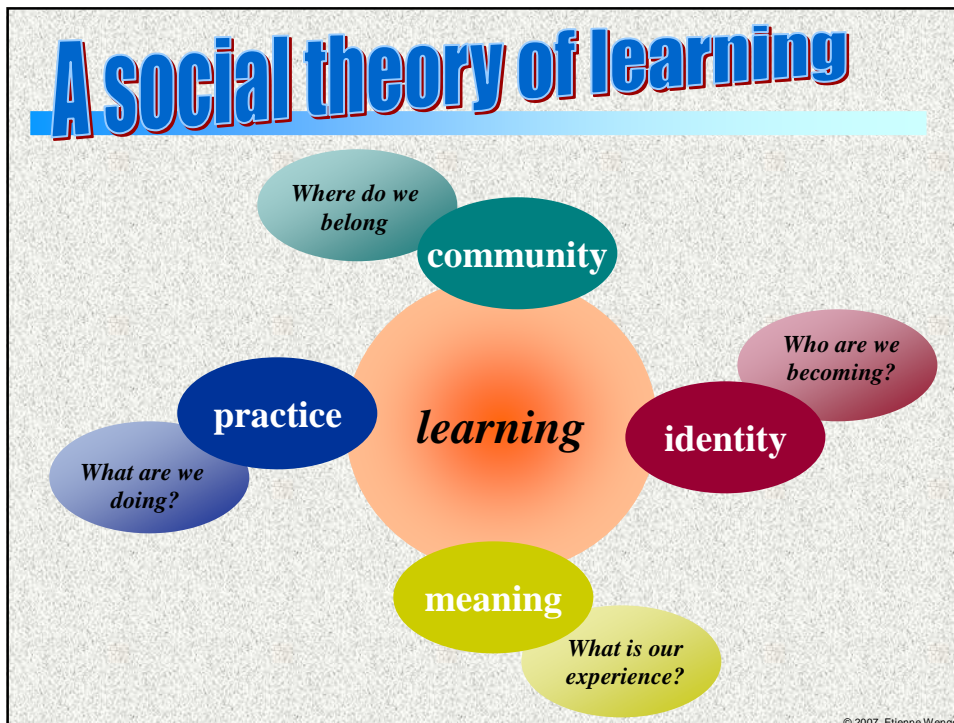

Purple in the nose ...

competence experience

core identity boundary

© 2007 Etienne Wenger

A community of practice is ...

... a group of people, who

- share similar challenges

- interact regularly

- learn from and with each other

→ improve their ability to address their challenges

© 2007, Etienne Wenger

-Myeloproliferative disorders practice and voice

- From support to practice

- Gaining a voice in research and policy

© 2007, Etienne Wenger

Nurse practitioners in British Columbia

© 2007, Etienne Wenger

Model 1: a social discipline of learning

Key dimensions

© 2007, Etienne Wenger

Communities of practice at Cuyahoga Community College

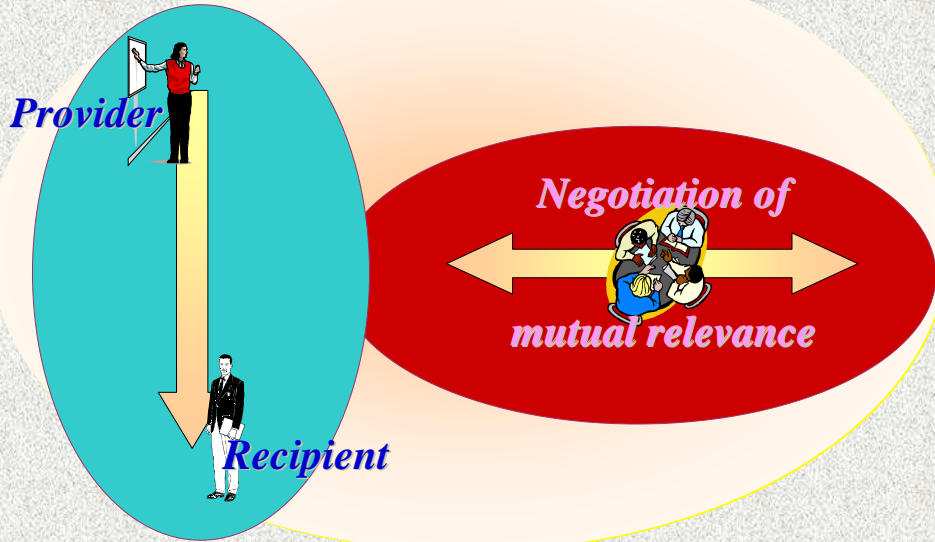

© 2007, Etienne Wenger

We are writers ...

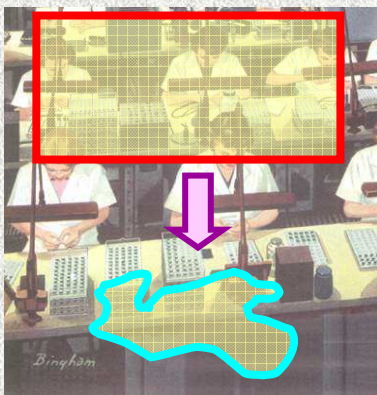

© 2007, Etienne Wenger

Horizontalization of learning

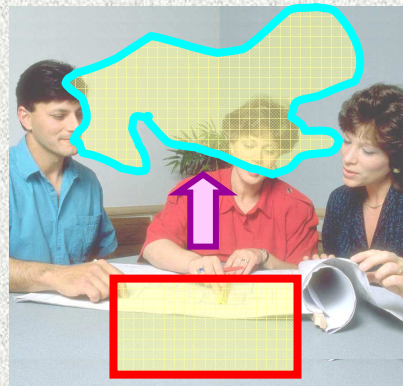

Personalization of value creation

We are witnessing a radical shift in the primary source of value creation.

The personal in the service of the formal

The formal in the service of the personal

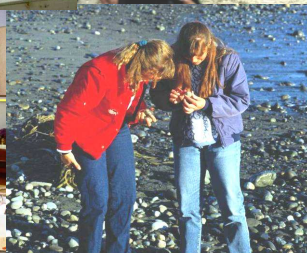

© 2007, Etienne Wenger

The future of learning capability

The 21st century will be the century of identity.

© 2007, Etienne Wenger

Identity as a curriculum

© 2007, Etienne Wenger

A question of learning capability

How can I/we, as _____ contribute to the learning capability of the world I live in by enhancing the learning capability of my/our own sphere of participation?

© 2007 Etienne Wenger

The end

For more information, go to www.ewenger.com

Etienne Wenger

Learning for a small planet

P.O. Box 810

North San Juan, CA 95960, U.S.A.

Phone (530) 292-9222

E-mail etienne@ewenger.com

Website: www.ewenger.com